EDITORIAL NOTE

This volume compiles the available CSS Gender Studies paper material for the requested 2015-2026 span. It is designed for rapid revision, topic mapping and timed-paper practice.

Question wording, capitalization and punctuation have been regularized lightly for readability while preserving the meaning of the source paper. Typographical defects in options are retained only where they matter to interpreting the question.

Answers are editorial study keys, not an FPSC-issued answer key. Where an option set is defective or a published key is doubtful, the issue is stated directly beneath the question instead of forcing a misleading choice.

Objective sheets that could not be recovered from reliable archives receive their own source-status page. No reconstructed or memory-based questions have been inserted.

SOURCE AND INTEGRITY STANDARD

- Annual descriptive wording was checked against official-style scanned paper reproductions.
- Recovered objective sets were cross-checked against available archival transcriptions and scans.
- For formal citation or a disputed item, consult the original FPSC paper or notification.

PART I

OBJECTIVE PAPERS

Recovered annual MCQ sets with clearly separated options, editorial keys and transparent source notes.
